...FOREST HILL...

NEW JERSEY

is situated on the Greenwood Lake Division of the Erie Railroad, only ten miles from Chambers or Twenty-third Streets, New York, and within three miles of Broad and Market Streets, Newark, by Forest Hill Trolley Line.

There are over twenty trains daily to New York and the commutation fare is only five dollars a month. The Greenwood Lake Railroad is equipped with double tracks, block safety signals and modern suburban coaches, thus giving most excellent train service.

Forest Hill is within easy communication by steam or trolley roads with the Oranges, Montclair, and, in fact, with all New Jersey suburban towns within fifty miles of New York. Within twenty minutes ride on the Forest Hill Trolley line one can reach the Newark Station of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, Central Railroad of N. J , Pennsylvania Railroad, Erie Railroad (Newark Branch), and Lehigh Valley Railroad, thus giving the commuter sure and ample communication, not only with New York but any part of the country.

From an elevation of over one hundred and sixty feet above tide water, Forest Hill commands an extended view in every direction and, as the soil is sandy and dry, it is not only a most delightful place to live in but one of the most healthy.

The property is only sold for residential purposes under uniform restrictions against all nuisances, as well as to the minimum cost of houses and minimum distance each house should be built from street line, thus giving to each investor a guarantee of the future character of the place.

The map accompanying this Booklet will give you some idea of the general lay-out of the property, showing the lots and plots for sale, and their proximity to the Steam and Trolley Lines, Public Park and Field Club Grounds.

For all further information as to price of lots, plots, terms for building, houses for sale or for rent, etc., apply to

FOREST HILL ASSOCIATION,

879 MT. PROSPECT AVENUE,

TELEPHONE 925. NEWARK, N. J.

Office within five minutes walk from the Forest Hill Station on Greenwood Lake Division of Erie R. R. Forest Hill Trolley cars pass the office and connect with the Newark Station of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R. R., Central R. R. of N. J., Penn. R. R., and Lehigh Valley R. R

Forest Hill has all the city conveniences with the delightful country surroundings. It adjoins on the West, the three hundred and fifty acre Branch Brook Park (Public County Park), and on the North, the Second River.

It has ample Police and Fire protection, as well as an excellent mail, express, telegraph and telephone service. The streets are flagged, curbed and paved, and lighted with Electric and Gas light. The water supply is from the Pequannock water-shed, located in the mountains of Northern New Jersey, the area of which is much larger than that of the Croton, while for purity, it has few equals in the country.

Churches of all denominations are easy of access, as well as Public and Private Schools of the highest type. The Forest Hill Field Club is located on the property. It maintains Golf Links, Tennis Courts, Base Ball and Foot Ball Grounds, as well as a well-equipped Club House, containing slate Bowling Alleys, Billiard and Pool Tables, and large Assembly Hall with stage.

In Branch Brook Park, large Commons and Lakes are maintained at public expense for all kinds of Athletic Sports. The following views found within this booklet will give you some idea of the character of this delightful suburb.

This property is owned, free and clear of all Mortgages, by the Forest Hill Association, incorporated under the New Jersey Laws, with ample capital to protect purchasers to a free and clear Title. In addition, the Title to this land has been searched and guaranteed by the Fidelity Trust Co , Newark, N. J.
